

Relative Value Investing

Provides a simple, cost-effective way to express thematic views. When the favored weighting is correct, the fund will seek to outperform traditional long-only strategies.

Overview

The Direxion Russell Large Over Small Cap ETF (the "Fund") seeks investment results, before fees and expenses, that track the Russell 1000®/Russell 2000® 150/50 Net Spread Index (the "Index"). There is no guarantee that the fund will achieve its stated investment objective.

Target Index

The Index measures the performance of a portfolio that has 150% long exposure to the Russell 1000® Index (the "Long Component") and 50% short exposure to the Russell 2000® Index (the "Short Component"). On a monthly basis, the Index will rebalance such that the weight of the Long Component is equal to 150% and the weight of the Short Component is equal to 50% of the Index value. In tracking the Index, the Fund seeks to provide a vehicle for investors looking to efficiently express a small-capitalization over large-capitalization investment view by overweighting exposure to the Long Component and shorting exposure to the Short Component. One cannot directly invest in an index.

Shares of the Direxion Shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from a Fund. Market Price returns are based upon the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 pm EST (when NAV is normally calculated) and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Fund returns assume that dividends and capital gains distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV. Some performance results reflect expense reimbursements or recoupments and fee waivers in effect during certain periods shown. Absent these reimbursements or recoupments and fee waivers, results would have been less favorable.
