Fallen Knives ETF

Overview

The Direxion Fallen Knives ETF \(NIFE\) aims to deliver a simple, systematic approach to capturing stocks that have fallen significantly, but with the financial health to support future outperformance. The idea of falling – or fallen – knives is a commonly understood one, and the rules-based approach allows for a framework to capture the most attractive opportunities. The fund may provide investors with a distinctive approach to U.S. equities with a distinct exposure profile.

- Systematically identify stocks that have fallen in price significantly in the past 12 months.
- Seeks to capture the most desirable fallen knives that boast the financial health necessary to support a potential rebound.
- May be considered a satellite equity holding, which tilts simultaneously toward temporarily out of favor stocks, with characteristics for a potential rebound.

Investment Objective

Shares of the Direxion Shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from a Fund. Market Price returns are based upon the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 pm EST (when NAV is normally calculated) and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Fund returns assume that dividends and capital gains distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV. Some performance results reflect expense reimbursements or recoupments and fee waivers in effect during certain periods shown. Absent these reimbursements or recoupments and fee waivers, results would have been less favorable.
